ber Rollers are Used for Crushing the Grapes in Speer's Port, Burgundy, Claret, &c. These rollers, which, as is well known, rival the work of the best persons, and are made from the finest wood of Portugal forty years ago. They are made of cast-iron, and containing iron, is just suited for the purpose of mashing the grapes in a few minutes. Speer's Wines, especially his Claret, are of very old vintage, and he can not prescribe them for weak constitutions. They are blood-making, adding iron to the blood. Extensively used at parties and banquets.
